What promises to be an amazing series by Author Hamilton Hill. The Roads of Luhonono is a universal story that takes place in Magical Africa. The story is spread over five books, with the first one, Legend of The East Road, due to be released in October 2015:

“At the beginning of time, the ancient ancestors of Luhonono combined their souls to sprout a giant Baobab. Within its roots they placed a spirit mirror to separate the living from the dead. For centuries this power had been protected by M’tuna “The Gatekeeper” but now, the building of a new crossroad junction at the tree, causes upheaval and weakens M’tuna’s powers.”
